To: St. Francis Xavier <injug.stx1976@gmail.com>

Hello again, it is Francis Xavier, your spirit of St. X 1976 class reunions past, present, future, and here again with another Class of '76 update.

This week's email is about the present, which begs the question - Where do your classmates currently reside? Click on the link below to see the current Class of 1976 diaspora:

If you missed my email last week about our graduation and the commencement address of William O'Malley, SJ, send me a note to my personal email at injug.stx1976@gmail.com. (Yes, even old Jesuits can still learn new tricks.) If you've already read the email, please share your thoughts about Father's address by posting your comments on our new class blog – <https://stx76.org>. There, you can also register for the reunion events and find other interesting information.

In addition to keeping tabs on your classmates on this earth, I was just having several conversations with our (20) classmates that have ascended into Heaven. They send their best and wish that they were still able to enjoy the love, camaraderie, conversations and experiences that we're able to continue to have in our lives. <https://stx76.org/wp-content/uploads/2026/02/St-X-76-Deceased.pdf>

Speaking of which, it was called to my attention that Jay Frank and Jim Seiter were the troublemakers. Just the other day they tried to clip Paul Behrends wings, but Eric Begehr and Vince Schlueter came to Paul's aid. I'm sure you all miss these Heavenly Band of Brothers and those fellow classmates who are with us today.

Now that you know the twenty classmates that you've lost, are you able to help me find a few that I cannot find?
